

These maps are the first edition of the Cambridge and MIT green maps produced by GreenMap MIT. The purpose of a green map, is to educate the public about the variety of resources available to them to lead a more environmentally sensitive lifestyle as well as the hazards they are exposed to; the latter have been omitted in the enclosed maps for clarity. For additional, more complete, maps and information about participating visit us at greenmap.mit.edu

Legend

Green Map Logo © 2003 Green Map Systems, Inc.

- |  |                  |  |                 |
|--|------------------|--|-----------------|
|  | City border      |  | Public art      |
|  | Open space       |  | Museum          |
|  | Major park       |  | Comm. garden    |
|  | Sandplain        |  | Reuse           |
|  | Water supply     |  | Recycle         |
|  | Bike lane        |  | Water recycling |
|  | Mixed use path   |  | Farmer's market |
|  | Nice walk        |  | Organic grocery |
|  | Bike parking     |  | Veg restaurant  |
|  | Zipcar           |  | Green business  |
|  | Subway           |  |                 |
|  | Buses & Shuttles |  |                 |
|  | Public square    |  |                 |

Public square - See supplemental maps for detail

Other Resources

New England Wildflower Society www.newfs.org

The NEWFS runs the Garden in the Woods, an excellent park featuring native plants with a nursery full of specimens to bring home.

Friends of Alewife friendsofalewifereservation.org

A community group that concerns itself with preservation and maintenance of the Alewife Reservation.

Local Harvest localharvest.org

An online index of locally produced food resources.

Friends of the Community Paths pathfriends.org

A bicycle advocacy group that works to promote an integrated bicycle path network in Greater Boston.

Miscellaneous Environment pg XXX

A primer on environmental resources and programs at MIT.

Sightseeing Great Outdoors & Critter Watching pg XXX

A list of other attractions highlighting the natural world in Greater Boston.